

fundação
LUSO-AMERICANA
PARA O DESENVOLVIMENTO

CONFERENCE

The Rise of Populism in Europe

This Conference will bring together thinkers, lawmakers, and politicians from across Europe and the United States to discuss the rising populism in Europe and its consequences for democracy and the international global order.

Organization

Dan Brumberg Vasco Rato
Jennifer Dresden Guilherme Dray

Tuesday, April 18, 2017
9:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Georgetown University, Washington, DC

Fischer Colloquium - Business School's Hariri building

Welcome

Charles King – Chair, Department of Government, Georgetown University

Panel 1 General Overview on Populism: concept, social and economic environment, and its consequences for the future of democracy

José Vieira da Silva - Portuguese Minister for Employment and Social Security

Yacha Mounk – Lecturer on Political Theory at Harvard University's Government Department. Postdoctoral Fellow at the German Marshall Fund's Transatlantic Academy. Nonresident Fellow in the Political Reform Program at New America.

António Costa Pinto - Research Professor at the Institute of Social Sciences, University of Lisbon, and Professor of Politics and Contemporary European History at ISCTE-IUL, Lisbon. He has been visiting professor at Stanford University, Georgetown University, a senior associate member at St Antony's College, Oxford, and a senior visiting fellow at Princeton University and at the University of California, Berkeley.

Panel 2 Case Studies: Brexit, France and the “Refugee Crisis”

Pedro Silva Pereira - Portuguese Member of the European Parliament; Vice President of the Constitutional Commission of the European Parliament. Former Portuguese Minister of Presidency.

Maria Carrilho - Professor and Head of Master in European Studies at ISCTE/IUL, Lisbon, Portugal. Former Member of the Portuguese Parliament and of the European Parliament.

Pedro Reis - President of Institute Sá Carneiro. Former President of the Portuguese Agency for the External Commerce.

Panel 3 Comparative Experiences: the European Union & the United States

Rui Machete – Former Portuguese Minister of Foreign Affairs; Former President of FLAD.

Philip Wallach - Senior Fellow in Governance Studies at the Brookings Institution. Author and analyst on domestic policy topics, including Congress and the Administrative State. Featured in The Washington Post, The Los Angeles Times, Newsweek, U.S News & World Reports. Author of "To the Edge: Legality, Legitimacy and the Responses to the 2008 Financial Crisis" (2015).

Pedro Delgado Alves - Member of the Portuguese Parliament. Professor at University of Lisbon, Portugal.

Sara Fernandes – Professor at University of Minho, Portugal.